Wellborn Resignation Looms Following 3-Way Indictment

Council Group Maps Impeachment Action

Burt T. Wellborn, Manager of the Atlanta Municipal Auditorium, who was indicted by a Fulton County Grand Jury and faces threats of impeachment, will resign his post.

An reliable authority in Atlanta's City Government said Wellborn would resign. However, Wellborn could not be reached for comment. Telephone calls to his home throughout the early part of Friday night went unanswered. A trip to his home by a Constitution reporter also proved fruitless.

The Auditorium Manager was indicted on three separate counts charging larceny after trust, bribery, and making false State income-tax returns.

Shortly before the indictments were returned, the City Council Building and Athletic Committee voted to present impeachment proceedings against Wellborn to City Council Monday. His son-in-law, George Carr, Assistant Manager of the Auditorium, will be fired if the Committee recommendation is adopted.

Thus, 13 days after the first intimation of a "scandal" in the operation of the Auditorium became public, two separate bodies had taken strong stands to correct future maladministration.

Indictments

The Fulton County Grand Jury Friday returned three indictments against Burt T. Wellborn, suspended Manager of the Atlanta Municipal Auditorium, charging larceny after trust, bribery and making a fraudulent State income-tax return.

The indictments climaxed a lengthy investigation by the Grand Jury and Sol. Gen. Paul Webb of the disappearance of $7,000 from the proceeds of the Auditorium show "Holiday on Ice."

The felony indictment said Wellborn stole and converted to his own use on April 4, 1947, $500 delivered to him by O. L. Freeman, Auditorium concessionaire, "for the purpose of applying the same for the use and benefit of Paul Jones."

The bribery indictment stated Wellborn received bribes totaling $10,380 from Promotors Paul Jones and J. Lee Friedman.

The first count alleged Wellborn received from Jones a bribe of $6,180.57 to influence his official behavior in renting Auditorium space to Jones for the Holiday or Ice Show in March, 1946.

Count two alleged that on March 10, 1947, Wellborn received from Jones and J. Lee Friedman a bribe of $3,000 in order to obtain rental of Auditorium space for the Holiday on Ice Show from Feb. 24 to March 9, 1947.

Count Three alleged Wellborn received a bribe of $300 from Jones for rental of space for the hill billy ball on Dec. 31, 1947.

The fourth count charged Wellborn received a $900 bribe from Jones for renting space for the Water Show which ran from Feb. 7 to Feb. 12, 1947.

In the indictment for making a fraudulent State income-tax return, Wellborn was charged with intentionally omitting taxable income in the amount of $4,785.

Friday being the last day of the January-February term, the Grand Jury returned its presentments to Judge Virlyn Moore, including in them recommendations for changes in the management of the Auditorium.

The Grand Jury recommended:

That after any engagement has been booked for the Auditorium, it shall not be cancelled, exchanged or postponed without approval of the Auditorium and Athletics Committee of City Council.

That the Committee assume remore definite regulations for the management of the Auditorium.

That regular monthly meetings of the Committee be held.

That the Committee asure responsibility for the operation of the Auditorium.

Impeachment

Demand that Burt T. Wellborn, Manager of the Municipal Auditorium for the past 10 years, be impeached and George Carr, Assistant Manager and Wellborn's son-in-law, be ousted will be made in City Council Monday by members of Council's Buildings and Athletic Committee.

At the same time, it was learned from an authorative source that Wellborn would resign the post before impeachment action could be instituted.

In connection with the report, however, The Constitution could not reach Wellborn for comment. Telephone calls to his home at intermittent periods during Friday night were not answered. By the same token, a trip to his home met with the same results.

The Buildings Committee, which has jurisdiction over operations of the Auditorium, Friday adopted unanimously a house-cleaning program offered by Ald. L. O. Moseley. It included the following recommendations:

1. Cancellation of the concession lease now held by O. L. Freeman.

2. Secrutiny of all future bookings held by Promoters Paul Jones and J. Lee Freidman, Wellborn and/or Carr. Such dates are subject to immediate cancellation if the Committee is convinced of any irregularities.

3. Passage of an ordinance making it an offense for any city official or employee to promote and be financially interested in any Auditorium attractions.

The recommendations followed another hearing Friday at which Wellborn, Freeman and Jones were questioned concerning the payment of $500 by the Home Builders' exposition for purchase of a date which Jones had reserved.

Freeman said he put the money, composed of five $100 bills, in an envelope and gave it to Jones to pay for Jones' date. Jones testified he never received any of the money. Wellborn admitted getting the envelope. He said he placed it in Jones' mail. From that point on, its path was lost.

Moseley offered a report of the Committee's findings which stressed investigation of all rumors and reports brought beforit it.

"The Committee does not undertake to assert that it has uncovered everything in connection with the Auditorium," it said. "The public was invited to help us, and we listened to every person who wished to testify."

Charging that Wellborn and Carr had been parties to private agreements for personal profit, the

Union To Sail Liner Over Official's Beef

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—CIO National Maritime Union members agreed Friday to sail the liner America to Europe next week despite a dispute between a union official on the ship and her master.

Crew members began signing on for the voyage after voting against a walkout. The 26,454-ton vessel, queen of the U. S. passenger fleet, is scheduled to sail Wednesday.

Walter Avellar, Chairman of the ship's committee of delegates, declared Thursday on the liner's arrival here that the crew had agreed not to sign on again unless a chief steward were fired and two discharged stewards reinstated.

However, NMU officers Friday criticized Avellar and indicated they believed the dispute could be settled in routine fashion.

Capt. Harry Manning, master of the America, asserted Thursday he'll keep the liner tied up "until hell freezes over" rather than give in to union demands.

He demanded a showdown on who "runs the ship—the captain, the union delegate or the commissar." Manning did not identify "the commissar" but Avellar, an electrician on the liner, said "he means me."

The U. S. lines, operator of the ship, said the chief steward, W. S. McDonald, would not be discharged.

Joseph Curran, NMU President, said "this is only one of a number of minor grievances that could have been settled in the regular way under the contract.

"The union handles hundreds of these beefs every day. Characters like this Avellar are trying to get themselves some cheap publicity and at the same time victimize the crew."

Avellar said McDonald's discharge was sought "for conduct unbecoming a union member." He did not elaborate but some other crew members said the discharged stewards were victimized by the chief steward.

Last August the America, largest of the nation's passenger vessels, was held up for eight days when her crew refused to work during a strike by insurgent members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association.

Red Rulers Sworn in By Benes

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Saturday, Feb. 28—(UP)—President Eduard Benes swore in the new Communist Cabinet Friday and emphasized he did so to avoid internal division and the threat of general chaos.

A few hours later the new Government sharply rejected a statement by the United States, Great Britain and France condemning the coup by which it seized power.

". . . These Governments have not the slightest legal title to interfere or even criticize the development of internal life in Czechoslovakia," the Government said in a statement.

". . . They are operating on charges which have no foundation in fact."

The Ministries of Information and Foreign Affairs announced they would take "proper measures" in future against foreign correspondents who sent untrue or "distorted" dispatches regarding happenings in Czechoslovakia.

The purge of "undesirables" continued steadily throughout the country.

Dr. Karel English, Rector of ancient Charles University, and 25 of his professors, lecturers and assistants were dismissed along with 12 student leaders.

It was announced the Czech and Slovak radios, previously administered separately, had been merged into a new Czechoslovak radio.

Benes swore in Premier Klement Gottwald and Ministers of his Cabinet at 10:30 a. m. at the Presidential Hradcany Castle in a 10-minute ceremony.

"I received the resignations of Ministers of the Government, and I have signed the decrees of nomination," Benes said to Gottwald, referring to the nomination of new Cabinet members.

"You have said correctly that my decision was not easy. To the contrary, you have said yourself that for me personally it was very difficult. I considered the crisis a long time, and seriously. I arrived at the conclusion that it was necessary to accept your proposals. You know we have spoken for a long time about all these things, and we for a long time considered a solution of the crisis.

"I have seen that any other solution would deepen the crisis and would lead to a sharp division of the nation, and eventually this could end in general chaos. But the state must be conducted and administered. You want to conduct state affairs in a new way and in a new form of democracy. My wishes, addressed to you and the nation and the state, are that this new way may be favorable for all."

Gottwald replied that plotters had tried to overturn the Government. He thanked Benes for contributing to "a quick solution of the crisis in the spirit of our people's will."

Gottwald said he would take his Cabinet before the Constituent Assembly soon and "I am convinced that it, too, will approve the new Cabinet and its program."

Finland Told by Russia It's Time To Sign 'Consolidation' Treaty

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.

Now Russia is moving to consolidate her hold on Finland, last country within the Communist sphere to retain a semblance of autonomy.

Prime Minister Stalin informed Finland, in a diplomatic note, Friday she should sign a pact with the Soviet similar to those linking Russia to its other neighbors. The note was addressed to President Juho Paasikivi.

The news burst upon the Finns even as Communists were consolidating their newly acquired grip on Czechoslovakia. Tension, suggesting an atmosphere of a Government crisis, hung over Finland.

Sources close to the Government termed the note a "Soviet program declaration." Discussions of a pact between the two countries have been rife since the Russians won the second of two recent wars with the Finns.

The Finnish Cabinet met with the President early after delivery of the note. Its discussions were cloaked in secrecy.

It is too early to tell for sure whether Moscow intends to create an immediate Government crisis in Helsinki so that it can be taken over as was Prague. The present move could be confined to inclusion of Finland in the Russian security-treaty system.

But it looks like only a matter of time for Finland. Russia has removed the wraps. She is out to consolidate her sphere, and to cut its contacts with the rest of the world.

She, and the world with her, are moving down a road which has never led to anything except war. All nature fights against any effort to separate one part of a body from another.

I have just been knocked off my chair by receipt of a letter from one of the best informed women in the United States on international affairs. I have had many arguments with her because she believed the humanist aims of Communism would eventually overcome its Bolshevistic perversions. She believed that American capitalism was not entering the fight with clean hands.

But now she writes:

"I feel I have to tell you that I am convinced to the extent that I am now impatient with all diplomatic moves. We should start an 'unprovoked' war, use the atom bomb, and we should do it within the next three years. This is Munich all over, not because it is the same country (Czechoslovakia) but because the implications are the same, the symptoms of our enemy's foreign policy the same.

"What breaks my heart is that everyone appears so punch drunk they can't realize what is hapening. The State Department goes right ahead with its belief in the containment policy. How much containment can we do? It's impossible, it's economically unsound, and it only weakens us for the final showdown."

The idea that the United States could ever deliberately drop the first bomb is so incredible as to require time for digestion. Certainly we cannot afford to wait for a new Pearl Harbor. Neither can we afford to permit Russia to continue mobilizing half a world. But as Abraham Lincoln once put it, war never solves anything. You fight it, and then when it is over the problems which caused it still remain to be solved.

It also seems obvious that passive containment will not solve the Russian problem, either, for her fifth columns work in ways difficult to meet.

But just as we had to prepare for the fighting war after we were in it, so we have had to prepare for the cold war since it began. The forces are being mobilized for elimination of the human poverty and despair upon which the fifth columns feed.

Southern Democrats Slate 5-Step Fight

By THE UNITED PRESS

The Southern revolt against President Truman's civil rights program has shaped up into a five-step plan aimed at restoring the South's dominance of the Democratic Party.

The Southern program contemplates:

1. A united front in Congress against anti-discrimination legislation.

2. Revision of State election machinery as a step toward keeping Mr. Truman's name off the ballot. There is no law against such a practice in Georgia, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida or South Carolina. Virginia's Gov. William Tuck has moved to allow his State the same privilege.

3. An attempt to defeat Mr. Truman for the Presidential nomination, and keep a civil-rights plank out of the Party platform.

4. Withold Southern electoral votes from Mr. Truman in an attempt to throw the selection of the next President into the House of Representatives.

5. Reorganizing the Party after the November election.

Developments on the Southerners' civil-rights battle front include the pledge Friday of an Alabama candidate for Democratic National Convention delegate to vote for Gov. Jim "Favorite Son" Folsom for Presidential nominee.

In Jackson, Miss., Gov. Fielding Wright disclosed that a conference of Southern Governors would be held March 13 in Washington, D. C.

An anti-poll tax bill three times "talked down" by Southern Democrats was on its fourth trip through Congress with a good chance of becoming law.

A Rules Subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner, Republican, Indiana, approved the bill Wednesday, rejecting a demand by Sen. Stennis, Democrat, Mississippi, for public hearings in seven Southern States that require voters to pay a tax before casting their ballots.

The bill, already passed by the House, has the combined support of Republicans and Northern Democrats.

The poll-tax bill is the second civil-rights measure to win favorable action in two days. A House Judiciary Subcommittee Thursday

Georgia Urges 'Wards' For Mental Inmates

Georgia is pondering a plan to remove the mentally ill from county jails.

This development was disclosed Friday as the Fulton County Grand Jury urged prompt establishment of a mental ward at Grady Hospital.

State Welfare officials considered a change in Georgia's archaic lunacy law while Health Department officials hurried a program which would permit operation of mental clinics and screening institutions. The latter would be used to sort the temporary unbalanced from those who must be confined at Milledgeville State Hospital.

Welfare Director W. E. Ireland wants a change in State law to permit assignment of the mentally ill to such wards—pending lunacy proceedings—rather than to county jails. He also wants the statutes revised to permit him to pay for a patient's upkeep at such a screening institution, a procedure which now is of doubtful legality.

At present a person named in a lunacy warrant must be jailed by the Sheriff. He then remains in jail three days while a lunacy commitment hearing is prepared. The Sheriff is required to carry an adjudged lunatic directly to Milledgeville.

The Health Department is considering establishment of mental wards and clinics at Grady, Armstrong College, Savannah, and University Hospital, Augusta. They would be demonstration units, financed from an annual Federal appropriation of $90,000, and would set the pattern for mental hygiene clinics which the Department hopes to establish over the State.

Armstrong College has operated under contract from the Veterans Administration, now planning to abandon the facility. It could be turned quickly into a place for the treatment and diagnosis of ills for all civilians, according to Dr. T. F. Sellers, Director of the State Department of Public Health.

Ireland, Dr. Hugh Wood, Dean of Medicine at Emory; Dr. Carl Whitaker, Professor of Psychiatry at Emory; L. C. Groves, formerly State Welfare Director, and Grady Supt. Frank Wilson conferred Friday concerning the operation of a mental ward, to be financed by the State and Federal Government.

Grady already operates a clinic for the mentally unbalanced, but has no ward for those who should be confined, and it is hampered in any plan for a ward by lack of space.

University Hospital, in Augusta, only recently had been asked for a plan for establishment of a mental hygiene demonstration unit, Dr. Sellers said.

DIARY 'NOT VULGAR BUT VILE'

Gioia Labeled 'Social Butterfly;' 'A Mother Who Wants Her Babies'

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 27—(AP)—Gioia Barker Grimditch was pictured variously Friday as an irresponsible "social butterfly" and as "a little mother who only wants her babies."

Decision in the sensational divorce and child custody battle between the Gould heiress and William H. Grimditch, Jr., of Philadelphia, will come "sometime next week," Superior Court Judge J. Mercer Johnson announced.

Final arguments in the case were concluded Friday afternoon.

Philip F. LaFollette, former Governor of Wisconsin and counsel for Grimditch, asserted that Gioia's diary was replete with language "not vulgar but vile."

The diary, he said, was "not of a mother in love with her husband and thinking constantly of her children but of a social butterfly to an extraordinary degree self-centered . . . with no discipline, no training and no checkrein."

But Frank Beer, attorney for 23-year-old Gioia, said:

"Gone are the days of parties, carefree life and lighthearted days.

"All this little mother wants now is her babies."

The legal fight over custody of the two little Grimditch children, Beer said, resulted from "an unhappy union of two young people from totally different backgrounds."

Beer said the issue essentially was one of custody and not of divorce.

LaFollete, in summing up the case on Grimditch's cross-complaint, dwelt at length on the diary.

He said Gioia had written 71 times in 1946 of Blake Brophy, with whom she has said she was in love. Her husband, LaFollette said, was mentioned only four times in that period and her children a like number.

Gioia earlier had returned to the witness stand to translate French passages in her diary and explain their meaning.

She said certain entries, which her husband charged recounted infidelities, merely were innocent incidents set down in "silly schoolgirl" style.

Gioia was followed to the stand by Etta Prescott, nursemaid for the Grimditch children, William Henry, III, 3, and Gioia Gloria, 18 months.

Miss Prescott, weeping through most of her testimony, said the children loved their mother and need her." They have "everything they need and are very happ," she said.

The nursemaid, who has been with Gloria since the son was two months old, said the father was "very devoted" to the children.

Funds for Start on Columbia Dam In Bill, Engineers' Chief Reveals

By WELLINGTON WRIGHT

The Rivers and Harbors Bill, which has already passed the House of Representatives, and has now gone to the Senate for approval, for the first time provides funds to begin planning for the $25,000,000 Columbia Dam on the Chattahoochee River, near Blakely, Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, Chief of the Corps of Engineers of the Department of the Army, revealed here Friday.

Gen. Wheeler spoke here Friday night at the forty-sixth annual meeting of the Atlanta Freight Bureau at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

In an interview prior to the meeting, Gen. Wheeler said that Columbia is the second of the series of dams which the Corps of Engineers plans for the multi-purpose development of the basin of the Chattahoochee - Flint - Apalachicola system of waterways, the first of them being Jim Woodruff Dam, already under construction, near Chattahoochee, Fla. Work will soon begin, he continued, on the planning of the third dam of the series, a low navigation dam at Ft. Benning.

The program which Gen. Wheeler envisions for this river basin calls for a nine-foot navigation channel to Bainbridge, on the Flint River, and to Columbus, on the Chattahoochee River. These three dams, he said, will create the necessary channel. Whether or not navigation will be extended from Columbus up the Chattahoochee to Atlanta will depend, he said, upon the results of a study, which the Corps of Engineers is now making.

Gen. Wheeler had no comment to make on the failure of the House to approve an appropriation to continue work on the planning of Buford Dam, above Atlanta, the fourth dam of the proposed series. Mayor Hartsfield has urged this dam to insure a water supply for the City of Atlanta, but the House refused to recommend an appropriation for it until Atlanta agrees to help pay for it. The Corps of Engineers, however, has favored Buford Dam as a means of regulating the flow of water on the Chattahoochee River below Buford.

In his speech to the Freight Bureau, Gen. Wheeler described in detail the work of the Corps of Engineers to improve the waterways of Georgia and of the Southeast. Allatoona Dam, near Cartersville, he said, is half complete, while Clark's Hill Dam, on the Savannah River, above Augusta, will be 20 percent complete by June 30. He urged the continued development of Georgia's waterways as a means of building up the economy of the State.

Gen. Wheeler said that "the Federal Government has a vital interest in the development of the rivers of the South," and, as a result of that development, he predicted increasing prosperity for this region.

Gen. Wheeler, who took part in the ground-breaking ceremonies at Allatoona nearly two years ago, will visit that dam again today on an inspection trip. Then he will go to Rome to inspect the river levees there. He will return to Atlanta late in the afternoon and will leave for Washington tonight.

During the dinner, members of the Atlanta Freight Bureau elected the following Board of Directors for the ensuing year: G. A. Austin, J. R. Bachman, George Beattie, Charlie Brown, D. E. Clark, R. A. Clark, H. S. Collinsworth, John M. Cooper, J. J. Doran, G. A. Doss, W. E. DuPre, Arthur Harris, Jr., Donald Hastings, Bolling Jones, Jr., Harold Montag, Donald L. Moore, Dean S. Auditorium Coercion In Court Use Alleged

With a four-count Fulton County Grand Jury indictment returned against Bert Wellborn, Manager of the Municipal Auditorium, and a move in the city government investigation to impeach him, The Constitution has received another account of alleged coercion at the Auditorium.

A Negro promoter, a graduate of Morehouse College, said he contracted with Wellborn for the city-owned building to present a New York basketball team last month. The Negro said he signed a contract to pay $200 for the building, giving a $60 deposit.

While the ticket sales were under way, the Negro said he was approached by Auditorium officials who demanded payment of the remaining $140 at once. He said he was forced to take the money out of the proceeds of advance ticket sales.

A short time later, the impresario recounted, an official of the Auditorium approached him and demanded immediate payment of an additional $50, which he described as "the cost of painting the basketball court on the auditorium floor." He further stated the the official threatened to turn off the lights and stop the game unless the $50 was paid promptly.

The promoter's statement was made in the presence of two white men. He indicated he would be willing to repeat it before City Council's Building and Athletic Committee, which controls the building, or the Grand Jury.

In the basketball promoter's transaction, it was pointed out, the Auditorium was in use for approximately two hours and he agreed to pay $200 for the two-hour period. The Holiday on Ice show, in which Wellborn held one-third interest, paid $1,400 for the building for 13 days, or a little more than $100 daily.

Facts brought out before the Council Committee during its four-day hearing showed that while a standard scale of rental fees had been established for the building, Wellborn had been allowed considerable authority in setting rates. Wellborn said occasional reductions in rates were necessary in order to "attract new shows here."

The only case brought to the attention of the Committee in which the prescribed $300 daily rental was collected was that of the Atlanta Music Club. Club Manager Marvin McDonald said his organization paid the $300 plus $244 to have elevated flooring installed in half the building.

report criticized concession operations at the building.

Commenting on operation of the Sky Room, which had been criticized during the Committee hearings, the group report characterized it as not being "up to the high standards which should be maintained on city property."

Agreements with "certain promoters" also were attacked, and in reference to the missing $7,000 which precipitated the probe when it was found on Wellborn, the report said it could not fix criminal responsibility. Wellborn's conduct, however, was branded as "unbecoming a city department head."

After Jones testified he had received none of the $500 which Freeman left with Wellborn for him, Wellborn took the stand. In answer to a direct question as to whether he took the money, Wellborn raised his right hand and said: "So help me God, I didn't. There is nobody who can say that I ever took any money from anyone except the shows in which I have told this Committee I was interested."

The Committee's report will be placed in form by City Atty. Jack C. Savage. A separate impeachment action also will be prepared by the city legal staff, and if Wellborn adheres to his announced intention of not resigning, they both will be offered at Monday's Council meeting.

If Wellborn should quit, the impeachment indictment and the trial which would follow will be obviated. Wellborn could not be reached after the Committee decision for a statement. A two-thirds vote of Council would be required to impeach.

Carr made no statement when he was informed of the Committee recommendation.

Carr is under civil service, and under existing city law, only the department head can bring charges against such an employee. If Wellborn were ousted, the new Manager could bring the charges, or City Council might pass an ordinance abolishing the post of Assistant Auditorium Manager.

Wellborn's term runs until Jan. uary, 1950, and there is considerable conjecture as to whether Mayor Hartsfield would nominate a successor to fill the unexpired term or whether City Council would elect. If Hartsfield nominates, Council would have to ratify the nomination. If the election is thrown into Council itself, nominations from the floor would be in order.

A scramble for the post is expected when the vacancy occurs, regardless of how the successor is selected.

approved a bill to make lynching a Federal offense.

While some Southern Democrats predicted—with privately expressed satisfaction — that President Truman could not be elected this Fall, Sen. George, Democrat, Georgia, said he looked for a thorough shakeup in the Democratic Party after the election, putting the Party on a basis of sound economic and good government principles."

Meanwhile, Rep. Cox and Rep. Preston, of Georgia, proposed that the Georgia Legislature meet in special session to deal with the civil-rights question.

As the Southern revolt continued to fan toward a hotter pitch Sen. Pepper, Democrat, Florida, denounced the move to ban the name of Mr. Truman from State ballots. He termed the move a "brazen" attack on the freedom of choice of voters.

At Key West, Fla., President Truman, on an inspection-vacation tour of the Caribbean, had no comment to make on the storm his program for civil rights had stirred.

HOUSE FIRE—Flames believed to have originated from spontaneous combustion and ignited rags and mops in a corner Thursday afternoon badly damaged the interior of the home occupied by W. G. Spencer at 181 Spence St., S. E. Police said no one was home at the time of the fire.

THIEVERY—Forays during balmy weather early Friday netted burglars a variety of loot. Four fire extinguishers were stolen from a parked car on Alexander Street, N. W. Owner of the property was W. T. Rogers, of 88 Walton St., N. W., whom police listed as a fire extinguisher salesman. A chain-hoisting device was missing from the Russell Chatham Garage, 708 Frisco St., N. W. . . . The Atlanta Furniture Company, 152 Whitehall St., S. W., reported 10 radios, valued at $314, were hauled out the back door.

OPPORTUNE TROUBLE — Police Friday night credited an automobile break-down with saving the vehicle for its owner. Patrolmen R. A. Boone and E. F. Jackson, investigating a parked car with motor and lights on at Picketts Allen and Savannah Street, said they learned that C. E. Bowen, 42, of 607 Picketts Alley, S. E., had been working on it. Bowen had informed three youths seeking repairs to the stalled car that he was a mechanic, police said. The three teen-age boys fled when police arrived. Council Forbids Board Post To Sutherland

City Council's Electric Lights Committee Friday refused to approve City Personnel Director Carl T. Sutherland as a member of a new board of examiners for master electricians. However, it did sanction a measure through which Sutherland's office would administer tests prepared by the board.

Ald. Lee Evans, member of the Committee, proposed that Sutherland be included among the membership of the board, but a storm of protest developed. Informed of the committee action, Sutherland said he was "not a candidate for the board." He said he has problems enough without taking others on.

Frank Duckworth, former employee of the City Electrical Department, led the fight against Sutherland as a member of the board. He was joined by Henry F. Barksdale, Chairman of the present examining group; K. D. White, of the White Electrical Contracting Company, and Ernest W. Collier, a business agent for an electrical union. All protested that Sutherland was not a trained engineer.

Councilman John A. White, Committee Chairman; Councilmen Lee Field and William T. Knight, and Ald. Roscoe Ailor expressed the general sentiment that Sutherland should not be placed in the position of serving on a "political board." They voted to strike Sutherland from the membership of the new group.

The new board will be composed of six members as follows: Two master electricians, a journeyman, a graduate engineer, a supply jobber and Dewey L. Johnson, Superintendent of Electrical Affairs.

Terms of two of the members will be for two years and thereafter all members will have three-year terms. Under the plan, affected organizations will submit nominations to Johnson who in turn will deliver them to the Mayor. The Mayor then will make nominations from the list subject to confirmation by City Council.

The Committe also recommended an ordinance through which the Board would prepare the examination, the Personnel Department would administer it, and the Board would grade the papers; a companion measure also would subject any master electrician to revocation of his certificate if he certified he had supervised any installation and had failed to do so.

In another action, the Committee approved a new modern electric code for Atlanta. It is modeled on 1947 recommendations by the National Electric Code Board. There was no opposition to the new code or to a series of requirements set up to meet local requirements.

2 Atlantans Indicted In Counterfeit Plot

Two Atlanta men Friday were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in Jacksonville on a charge of conspiring in an attempt to pass $10,000 of counterfeit money in four states. Ten others, including five Georgians, also were named in the true bill.

Herbert Crossley and Chester Turner were the Atlantans indicted in the case which was described by Assistant U. S. Attorney Damon G. Yerkes as one of the biggest counterfeit plots that ever came to a head in this section.

RUM SUSPECT FLEES

44-Mile Chase Hits 115 MPH

What's believed to be the longest chase of a liquor car suspect on Georgia records ended in Atlanta Friday night with the driver darting the machine through traffic to escape.

Hitting a 115 miles per hour, officers said, the driver of a 1939 "souped up" black Ford out-distanced a State Patrol car and a new Buick police car from Cherokee County.

State Trooper G. W. Smith said that he began the chase at Canton. Losing ground while driving 100 miles per hour, Smith signaled to County Officers Lee Strickland and Tom Collins to join the chase at Woodstock. The new police car passed Smith but was unable to gain on the suspected car as it tore through Marietta and down the four-lane highway to Atlanta. It disappeared in the 7:30 p. m. traffic.

The chase covered 44 miles in considerable fewer minutes.

Three Million Dollars Out of Your Pocket

Keep Georgia Green Week officially ends today.

But there should not be any slackening of effort toward conserving our most valuable natural resources through the prevention of forest fires.

Georgia has roughly 25,000,000 acres of woodlands, comprising approximately two-thirds of the State's total area.

More than 100,000 Georgians are employed in industries directly dependent on the State's forests. Landowners alone realize $100,000,000 a year from timber rights. And the number of wood processing plants is increasing annually, Agricultural and Industrial Development Board figures showing that 244 were established in the State during the past two years.

Yet despite the fact that our forests represent so much wealth, potential and productive, our conservation measures are spotty and inadequate. Only 36 of our 159 counties have organized fire protection units; there is a tremendous waste because of premature cutting; and in only a very few instances have continuing reforestation programs been adopted.

As a result, Georgia woodlands are producing less than half their capacity; an estimated 3,000,000 acres are in need of replanting; in the past decade, forest fires have cost the State an estimated $33,000,000 worth of damage.

To be sure, we have made some progress in prevention of forest fires. But last year there were still 9,365 in the State, at a direct cost of nearly $3,000,000.

That's why forest fire prevention cannot be emphasized one week out of the year and forgotten the other 51.

That's why all of us must do all we can next week and every week to reduce the toll.

We can't continue to charge $3,000,000 a year off to carelessness.

Will They Settle for a Used Plank?

Calm review of the mass of words produced at the meeting of the five Southern Governors with Democratic Chairman McGrath reveals that the National Chairman really was backing down plenty and offering the boys not merely an olive branch but almost a whole grove.

As reported by one of the press associations, one portion of the conversation went like this:

Gov. Laney: Just what kind of a platform plank do you propose to support?

Sen. McGrath: I think the platform of '44 was adequate and would be happy to support that.

Gov. Laney: Would you be satisfied with a platform of similar proposals as that in '44?

Sen. McGrath: I think that that language would be strong enough. I do not think that the issues have changed very much since that time.

This would indicate that what really happened was that President Truman made the political error of being definite. The administration is willing to settle for the words of 1944.

The controversial measures, meanwhile, have been introduced by the Republicans and, if passed, will be jammed through by them via limiting of debate.

A Political Dilemma

The Augusta Chronicle has compounded a political situation which may not prove as hypothetical as it sounds.

What will be the GOP stand on FEPC and like legislation, the Chronicle wants to know, in case Sen. Taft is nominated. The Senator has raised strenuous objections to this kind of force bill and, incidentally, gained many new friends in the South in so doing.

But the Republican Party platform in 1944 contained, as one of its chief planks, support of the so-called "civil rights" measures recently endorsed by Mr. Truman.

"Would the GOP," asks the Chronicle, "publicly say again that it stands for these policies, even if Robert Taft, who has disavowed them, were its presidential candidate?"

It is, indeed, an interesting question. And we, too, are waiting to see how it works out.

The Crisis in Korea

It is certain that if the United Nations is not to be written off as another inconsequential world agency it must find some way to provide democracy for Korea.

At the moment, Russia, by refusing entry to a UN Commission for the purpose of holding elections, is obstructing democracy in Korea, as she has in a great many other places.

The United States' suggestion to the Little Assembly, also boycotted by Russia, that the Commission proceed with holding elections in the zone occupied by American troops has been accepted. This at least will provide representative government for two-thirds of the Korean population. In addition, it will show to the Koreans, and to the world, emphatically who is blocking democracy.

Although it is probable the Koreans are well aware it is Russia who is obstructing the previously agreed upon plan for giving independence to Korea, the Koreans naturally look to the United States to overcome the impasse. Being Orientals, they will be inclined to look upon any lack of success as a loss of face for America and Americans. Indeed, such failure would be transmitted to all the Oriental world and inevitably would result in a further drop in the prestige of the United States and the United Nations as well.

It already is obvious Russia would like to make a totalitarian puppet state out of Korea.

Somewhere, somehow, Soviet expansion must be stopped. We had might as well begin applying the brakes in Korea.

THE PULSE OF THE PUBLIC

The Constitution welcomes letters on either side of any subject. They should not exceed 200 words and must be signed, although names will be withheld on request. We regret none can be returned.

Will We Wake Up?

Editor Constitution: What will be done by the people of the City of Atlanta regarding psychiatric care for mental defectives? The Grand Juries have pointed out so many times that such care and treatment is needed for those who suffer because of mental illness.

William R. Walsh, who survived the Death March on Bataan, hanged himself in a cell in Fulton Tower, because there was no other place that he could be confined. Yes, he was forgotten and there to die alone because of lack of interest on the part of the people of Atlanta, Georgia. There are many cases in Atlanta today which are mental in nature and who cannot be cared for because there are no medical facilities and only the Fulton Tower to receive them. Will the suicide of William R. Walsh awaken the people of Atlanta that something must be done for the many cases of mental illness that exist within the city?

Scout Thanks

Editor Constitution: As the Southeastern director of the Boy Scout program I want to thank you for the splendid editorial and the striking cartoon relative to the values of scouting in your Saturday, February 14, issue of The Atlanta Constitution.

The Atlanta Constitution has always been a good friend of the Boy Scouts, and we appreciate so much the Scouting news and Scouting interpretations that you so frequently include in your columns.

Paved Roads, Too

Editor Constitution: I know this isn't the first letter you've ever had from a person griping about the roads of Georgia. But usually it's about muddy dirt roads. That's where I differ.

The paved roads in Georgia are in really a more dangerous condition than the dirt roads. They have huge holes in the concrete, they're too narrow for the busses, transfer trucks and the new cars which are being built wider, the shoulders of the roads are like ditches. In order to dodge the holes in the highway people pull over on the other fellow's half of the road, thus endangering all of their lives.

Repairing doesn't do any good because only loose gravel is put in the holes and when a big truck or car comes along, the gravel is thrown out.

Why don't the roads we already have built get resurfacing instead of being ignored?

Auditorium Case

Editor Constitution: It is terrible that public property can be used by employees or politicians for personal gain, as is apparent in the case of the City Auditorium.

I am glad that you published the report conspicuously in your paper, and hope that you will lend your influence to see that this, and other conditions, are corrected by giving them enough publicity and arouse the public to correct situations that permit misuse of public property.

Still Hope

Editor Constitution: A large bunch of Atlanta Crackers, myself included, have fought for a number of years for legally supervised nurseries for the children of working parents, so that these tots, who are our future, could have, in their pre-grammar school days, places where they would be adequately and inexpensively cared for.

It looks now as if things might pick up for the betterment of said kids after this expose of child mistreatment at one run for profit. And if the Grand Jury, State and City officials and church influence of the State will keep busy on the matter until something constructive is accomplished, our crop of oncoming kids may really benefit.

What About Big Jim Folsom

Being a subscriber to "Folsom's Forum," and a talk or so with the Governor of Alabama, including a dinner at his home with a welfare committee, does not establish me as an expert on Jim Folsom.

Nevertheless, after a recent appearance on a national radio program with him, a number of persons have questioned me about him, thusly—

"Is he a demagogue?

"Is he a dangerous person?

"Is he just another political monstrosity such as the South seems to produce more frequently than any other region?

"What sort of person is he?"

To the first three my answer would be "No," if I must answer with yes or no. In discussing all of them I will, I think, answer, in some measure, the fourth.

Big Jim Jim Folsom's six feet and eight inches come from a poor family. His father was a Populist in the time when the only real agrarian or people's revolt ever attained any real power. This was in the time when Tom Watson was shaking the established pattern in Georgia as one of the great Populist leaders. So, he early was brought up on the milk of Populism. Poverty, and the great depression of the thirties, cut short his formal schooling.

Result The result was a curious education. Within him stirred old Populist emotions against which the new things he saw were met and absorbed, or rejected, but not without the scar of their meeting.

He was a seaman, going to foreign countries. Without much knowledge of history, he saw poverty and class distinction, and fitted them into his country's injustices. To this day this has influenced his thinking about European problems. He still thinks of them in terms of kings and princes, of royal purple and glittering wealth.

He worked in menial jobs. He has worked at many tasks. For a time he was a doorman at the Paramount Theater, the job going to the largest man in the long line of the first depression year.

Inevitably his actual education, aside from the scant formal education, was one which left him with a sense of loyalty which causes him to name friends to jobs which they sometimes are not fitted to do; to believe in persons who are not as loyal as he, and to give his relatives jobs because they need them. This sort of education left him also with the ever-present feeling that there is something basically evil in big corporations and that the people, and their welfare, generally, are wronged by them. There are many whose pattern of thinking was conditioned by the depression years, who feel so.

Articulate But he has one great gift, which to a public figure, is more precious than rubies and much fine gold. He knows how to talk to the people, at about a fifth grade level, without talking down to them. He talks their language, in a sort of fifth-reader style, and the result is inevitable—they know what he is talking about.

They are not always sure when they read many newspaper editorials. They often are not at all sure what a radio commentator has said.

But, they always know, and they entirely understand, what Jim Folsom says.

He is not now dangerous, though some of his ideas are wide of the mark. He could be badgered into becoming dangerous. He is a curious mixture of assurance and confusion, something which might be said of most of us, but he is a Governor. His strength and his gifts might be channeled into something fine.

Very few persons know how to talk to the people so that the least of them know, and understand, what is being said. He does.

As a result, politically Alabama is closer to a Populist revolt than at any time since 1895.

JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP

The President and Palestine

WASHINGTON—The perfectly sound, perfectly indecisive legal brief on Palestine which Sen. Warren Austin presented to the UN Security Council reflected one thing and one thing only—Harry S. Truman's own agonized indecision.

The Presidential wriggling to escape the horns of his dilemma has been so desperate that he put off approving even this facing-both-ways statement until after his ill-timed departure for the Virgin Islands. It was in the islands, on Sunday, that he finally gave his belated approval. His telegram reached Washington so late on Monday that the State Department had to cancel plans for a very necessary briefing of the press on the legal niceties of this vital declaration of American purposes.

Policy What is still more extraordinary, the Austin statement actually seems to mask a continuing refusal to grasp either of the horns of the Palestine dilemma. There is in the statement a kind of beginning of a policy. This country will not impose partition by force. But it will join in any United Nations effort to safeguard international peace and security. And it wishes the nature of this effort to be determined by a special commission of the old UN Big Five—Britain, France, China, the Soviet Union and the United States—under Article 106 of the UN Charter.

This is only the beginning of a policy, for two very simple reasons. The President has not resolved the differences within the Administration over what next step in Palestine we should press for—whether trusteeship, or frank reopening of the settlement proposed by the UN General Assembly, or enforcement of this settlement under the guise of maintaining international peace.

More incredible still, the President has not resolved the even more pressing differences over the implementation of whatever decision the UN may make. No matter what this decision is, some kind of international force will be needed in Palestine. This force must be mainly either American or Russian, or both. There is no approved American blueprint for such a force.

Hazards The source of the President's indecision is easy to discern—all three alternatives now really open to him are almost unthinkable. Positive advocacy of reopening the Palestine settlement means public eating of crow, with violent resulting political repercussions. Doing nothing at all means letting the Jews be pushed into the sea. And taking responsibility for enforcement of the UN General Assembly's recommendations means asking Congress for authority to send an American force to Palestine, perhaps requesting partial national mobilization in order to provide such a force, and risking a resulting sordid outbreak of racial feeling in this country.

On the lower echelons, opinion has been so divided that one cannot say that any special group advocated any special line of policy. Published reports have been misleading, however, concerning the highest policy-making level below the President.

In the first place, the chief policy-makers of the State Department would, on all the evidence, probably have preferred a much more definite choice of the third alternative outlined above than the Austin statement represents. The reasoning behind this State Department preference for effective enforcement of the partition plan was that when the situation is really bad—as the Palestine situation is—it is always the worst course to waver or to appease. The oldest rule of politics is that boldness invariably offers the best way out of a tough spot.

Armed Forces Again, the position of the Armed Services departments has also been misrepresented. The vital strategic importance of Middle Eastern oil has bulked large in their thinking. But far more important has been the problem of manpower.

The ground forces are now more than 100,000 men under complement. The whole disposable reserve of United States ground troops is composed of the equivalent of about two divisions of Marines, plus two divisions of the regular Army, plus air and naval units in proportion. The services have cautiously argued that since the British have failed to keep order in Palestine with 90,000 men, this whole disposable American reserve might well have to be committed by us. Therefore, they have demanded either partial mobilization, or some kind of limited selective service act, as the necessary accompaniment of any American attempt to enforce a Palestine settlement. Without this supplement of manpower, they have pointed out, they might conceivably find themselves unable to meet emergencies, either in Palestine, or Greece, or Italy, or elsewhere.

Rightly or wrongly, the President has accepted the service argument, which also deserves some study by Sen. Robert A. Taft. But this argument does not vitiate the rule that boldness is the best way out of a tough spot, or the rule that when you make your own bed you must lie in it, or the rule that ducking inevitable choices is the quickest way to secure the worst result.

Black Coffee and Light Verse?

In Cleveland, a lady psychologist suggests that housewives get their husbands off to a good start each day by reciting a poem at breakfast.

Is Longfellow going to replace orange-juice as the great American eye-opener?

The really ingenious little woman, one supposes, will suit her verse to the occasion, reciting "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck" with the toast and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" as she brings in what passes for coffee.

Maybe I'm just old-fashioned, but I'd rather have my eggs with Bacon than Benet.

The average man wants Service for breakfast . . . and he doesn't mean Robert W.

Keats and Shelly may be inspirational, but there's a lot more nourishment in oatmeal.

When you get up in the morning with an appetite, it's for wheatcakes from the griddle . . . and not Sonnets From the Portuguese.

A Man's Conscience Can Be Too Keen

A decent young man who enjoyed the good opinion of his neighbors had a government job that required him to handle small sums of money. One day he was tempted to keep $4 that came into his hands in such an unusual way that it could never be missed. He kept it.

Later, when he repented of his theft, he could think of no way to return the money without confessing his guilt. His conscience gave him no rest and eventually drove him to a sanitarium.

The psychiatrist knew his job and soon got the truth out of him. He had a guilt complex.

We laymen use the word "complex" carelessly and inaccurately. Any unusual state of mind or mental attitude is a "complex." We even confer it on ourselves. One who is self-conscious and easily embarrassed makes a virtue of it by declaring in mock humility: "I have an inferiority complex."

The psychiatrist can quickly recognize a typical inferiority complex, but a guilt complex, secretive by nature, may hide for years without being suspected. It may be the most common sickness of the mind.

If a man "goes crazy" because of jealousy, envy or malice, something he says or does reveals his mental state to intimates before he needs institutional care, but who can tell that a man's conscience is nagging at him?

Man's inborn moral sense, guided by his conscience, will urge him to do right and warn him against wrong, but it can't tell him which is which. It must be taught what is right and what is wrong, which means it can be tricked. It can be taught that righteousness consists in betraying, robbing and killing, provided the victims are called "fat Fascists."

The professed moral standards of this Christian land are the best man can conceive in his present state of imperfect development. Any man who lives up to them is a very good man.

But no man does. "There is none that doeth good, no, not one. . . . There is no difference, for all have sinned."

Yet a boy or young man whose conscience is too active and unmerciful may do something wrong and thereafter believe himself the only sinner of his kind. Guilt gnaws at his mind day and night.

He has confessed his sin and repented in tears. He thinks God has forgiven him. What, then, is his trouble?

He won't forgive himself! And that is no more righteous than refusing to forgive his fellow men. There can be no virtue in behavior that benefits nobody and hurts everybody affected by it.

Mr. Truman Invited Trouble

WASHINGTON—Where President Truman put his foot in it on the civil rights issue was by wrapping all his proposals into a single package and then sending a formal message to Congress on the subject. Had he acted differently he might have accomplished the same purpose, politically, without the attending furore and the threats of Southern revolt.

There is very little difference, for example, in the position of the late President Roosevelt and Mr. Truman on the civil rights question. At one time or another Mr. Roosevelt indorsed all the proposals his successor has presented to Congress.

There is this one difference, however: Mr. Roosevelt, with his greater political mastery, never went to the extent of formally asking Congress to approve such a program. He gave lip service to various parts of the program from time to time. When special groups would come in to discuss civil rights with him he usually would listen and then pass it over with a wave of his hand, as if to say: "Of course, that is something we are all for; I am for it."

But he was careful to avoid a direct and positive issue by calling upon Congress formally to take action on a comprehensive program.

In that way he was able to shift the onus of the issue to Congress. It was up to proponents of the legislation to get bills through Congress before the issue could blow hot on the White House.

President Truman has caused himself to be made the focal point of all the bitterness aroused by the controversy by the way he handled the program. His position would have been much better if he had refrained from sending Congress a special message on the subject.

No one can doubt that the President was guided by a certain amount of political expediency in what he has done. He felt the necessity for offsetting some of the issues being raised by Henry A. Wallace in his third-party bid for the Presidency.

Wallace is out fanning the flames of racial prejudice. He is shouting for anti-segregation laws, anti-poll tax measures and an anti-lynching bill. He is also an ardent advocate of Federal fair employment practices legislation.

It is obvious what his purpose is. He is seeking to draw away from the Democratic Party those elements of liberal support which have gone to the ticket in past elections, hoping thus to bring about the defeat of President Truman for a second term.

Realizing all of this, the President felt compelled to counteract the Wallace move. Where he underestimated the situation was in not foreseeing the effect his civil rights program would have in the South. He had probably been led to believe Southern Democratic leaders would take the pill without making too much fuss about it.

Now Mr. Truman finds himself in a real dilemma. If he goes forward with the program he seems certain to provoke a Southern revolt. If he repudiates or soft-pedals the question he opens the way for many liberal groups of voters to be drawn away from the party ticket this Fall.

It is not a very happy position to be in, any way you look at it.

Meantime, the Republicans, with nothing to lose and all to gain, may be relied upon to keep the issue alive. They will do this by bringing out bills dealing with various parts of the President's program. The first, an anti-lynching bill, is already on its way, having been approved by one of the subcommittees of the Lower House.

If the President should be spared the necessity for signing the legislation, through a successful filibuster, the situation might be saved for him. The issue would then be forgotten—for the time being, at least.

But the point of it all is that the President might have avoided much of the controversy that has arisen by handling the matter as Mr. Roosevelt would have. He invited trouble when he sent Congress that special message.

Nothing Left To Argue Over, Walcott Signs

To the surprise of nobody, Joe Walcott has agreed to a return fight with Joe Louis in June.

It seems that the boys have gotten all the publicity possible with their wrangling about the details of the bout, and since there was nothing else left to do to attract headlines, Walcott agreed to terms.

Despite the fact that many people, including the referee, think Walcott was the winner of the first fight, Louis is dragging down the champion's share of the purse, a neat 40 percent. The challenger, despite his Police Gazette world's championship belt, must be contented with only half that much.

However, this will amount to a sizable chunk and any time he gets dissatisfied, he can recall his club fighting days when he had a hard time making enough to buy his mouth piece.

On the other hand, there are a lot of people who figure the risk Jersey Joe is taking to his physical well-being cannot be justified by any amount of money.

They recall, with considerable wisdom, those other fellows who ventured into the ring a second time against Louis. Max Schmeling was one of them. After knocking out Joe in the twelfth round of their first fight, the German tried it again and was chopped to the canvas in less time than it takes to spell his name.

Others who learned it was far wiser to meet Louis only once included Arturo Godoy, Bob Pastor and, of course, Willie Conn.

Back Tracking Of course, the same thing may not happen to Jersey Joe. According to most ringside observers, he was winning from Louis going away after 13 rounds of their first fight, but started back-tracking and allowed the champ to make sufficient comeback for victory.

Others have made the same mistake. For example, it is doubtful if Walcott's margin after a dozen heats was as large as Conn's in his first bout with Joe.

Billy had piled up a big lead when he became careless and caught one of Louis' rights to go down for the count. Perhaps if he had back-tracked as Walcott did he would have won the title.

Therefore, it would appear that Walcott fought an intelligent fight.

Whether he's smart signing for a return bout remains to be seen.

Buddy Lewis The announcement that Buddy Lewis is retiring from baseball is a break for a couple of boys well known to Atlanta.

Leon Culberson, the ruddy-faced lad from Lindale, and Gil Coan, Chattanooga's speedy outfielder of last season, will be heartened at the news, as they will be battling for berths in the Washington outer garden when Spring training opens in a couple of days.

Both Culberson and Coan have figured prominently in Joe Kuhel's plans, but Lewis' retirement undoubtedly makes their jobs a lot easier.

Culberson has been with the Red Sox for the past several years but hasn't played regularly. He's looking forward to that chance with the Senators.

Southern League Player rosters have been received from Nashville, Mobile and Birmingham of the Southern League. However, they are practically of no value in estimating the strength of the clubs because additional players will be received after their major league affiliations cut squads.

This is the big reason why the Crackers are favorites for the pennant at this time. As the only independent club in the league, Atlanta's strength is known The others must wait to see who they are going to get.

For the same reason, it is almost a necessity that the Crackers establish their club during the Winter months because it's next to impossible for independents to get help after the season starts.

A club which has a working agreement can inhabit the league's cellar for the first month of the season and still win the pennant, provided the parent team is willing and able to furnish talent enough.

Tucker and Covington Gain 5th District Finals

By MERRELL MOORE

Sparked by Virginia Westbrook, pint-sized forward, Tucker trimmed Clarkston, 28-26, Friday night on the Fulton court to advance to the finals of the Fifth District Girls' Basketball tournament. Covington also earned the right to compete in the finals by shading Stone Mountain, winners of the DeKalb County meet, 17-13.

Suzanne Gardner led Covington with nine points in the opener, while Martha King paced Stone Mountain with six. Jean Avery was easily the best defensive player on the floor, after stealing the ball from the opposition.

Clarkston jumped into an early lead but Tucker fired back to lead 16-12 at intermission.

Lillian Hestley, who tallied some 20-odd points in the first round of play, was able to hit for only nine as she was guarded closely all night.

Jo Ann Rawlins, Clarkston forward, repeated Thursday night's performance as she hit the bucket for 17 markers. Betty Williams followed with seven, while Dorothy Frazier turned in a neat floor game for the winners.

Tonight's schedule will pit Clarkston and Stone Mountain at 8 o'clock, while Tucker and Covington battle for the title an hour later.

YALE OFFICIALS DENY, RUNNING AD FOR COACH

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 27 — (UP) — Yale University officials denied Friday night that they had advertised in the "help wanted" column of a New York newspaper for a football coach to replace the resigned Howie Odell.

An ad appearing this morning read:

"Football coach wanted. Old Connecticut school seeks character builder, successful record, experienced handling boys. Call New Haven 7-3131."

That's Yale's phone number, but the university officials say they don't know anything about the ad. So far, they said as they crossed their fingers, there have been no answers.

Jordan Bows To Columbus

MACON, Feb. 27 — Columbus eliminated Jordan from the Region 1 GIAA tournament here Friday night, 29-28, and earned the right to meet Moultrie Saturday afternoon in the semi-final round. The winner of the Columbus-Moultrie tilt will take on Lanier Saturday night, and both of the teams in the finals will compete in the GIAA tournament in March.

Jordan had advanced to the Columbus game by turning back Baker Village, 47-39, Friday afternoon.

Lanier captured its second straight, routing Moultrie, 54-28. It was the second straight victory for the Poets and insured them of a tourney berth.

Citation Tops Field At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27—(AP)—Citation and seven other horses were named Friday for the nineteenth running of the $50,000 added Flamingo stake at Hialeah Saturday.

That's the way the racing fans and experts look at it, and everything indicates that this colorful climatic race of the season at a track which fairly drips with color should be a one-horse affair with the other seven merely chasing Citation home.

For the records, the other seven are William Woodward's Hypnos, second to Citation in the Everglades Handicap here Feb. 18; Saggy, the "speed" horse owned by Mrs. Stanley Sagner of Baltimore; Pennant Day, from the Short Brook farm of Alfred Decozen and Parsippany, N. J.; Walter P. Chrysler's Silverling and Stephen Sanford's Realtor, both from New York; Big Dial, owned by Ernie Hart and George M. Jacobson of Washington, D. C., and Cheops, owned by Mrs. S. S. Zell of Baltimore.

A check by the track disclosed that all of the entries with the exception of Saggy have been named for the Kentucky Derby.

Citation, carrying the red colors of Warren Wright of Chicago, already has whipped the only two three-year-olds to face him this season. He figures to beat those two, Hypnos and Silverling, again as well as the other five hopefuls.

Talon Favored In Anita 'Cap

ARCADIA, Cal., Feb. 27—(AP)—Fourteen candidates were named Friday to run in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap Saturday afternoon.

They were Talon, On Trust, Autocrat, Terry Bargello, Double Jack, Miss Doreen, Enceavor II, Elpis, Shannon II, Class Day, Amble In, Bridal Flower, Brabancon and Flashco.

Olhaverry, the 1947 winner, who sustained a foot injury in a shoeing mishap Thursday, was not named. The unexpected entry was Louis Bronstein's Brabancon.

Perhaps a trifle optimistically, the track expects upwards of 80,000 to cram into the Arcadia showplace, which is some 15,000 more than it can accommodate in comparative comfort.

Clear weather and a fast strip are promised, with post time set tentatively for 5:02 o'clock (Pacific time).

The big favorite to capture the mile and one quarter race, with its guaranteed purse of $100,000, is the six-year-old dappled grey from Argentina, Talon, with Jockey Eddie Arcaro up—unless it comes up mud.

The Talon rooting echoes from his convincing triumph in the $50,000 San Antonio Handicap two weeks ago over much the same field as Saturday offers.

Novice Swings Hard at Louis

LONDON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Joe Louis made his debut Friday night as a sideshow feature at the Health and Holiday Exhibition against a young man who didn't heed his reputation as World Heavyweight Boxing Champion.

Phil Van Niekierk, a novice South African heavyweight, introduced himself to Louis in a one-round exhibition by extending a straight left to the head.

Joe seemed a little surprised and never got around to answering. Phil continued to swing as if he were playing for keeps. The full house, fully aware of Louis' reputation, went out somewhat disappointed that the Champ didn't put Van Niekierk on the floor.

Eddie Phillips, former British Light Heavyweight Champion, met Louis in one round, but had to ask for mercy. He left the ring with a bloody nose. Phillips, now retired, beat Olle Tandberg of Sweden in 1945.

Murphy Annexes City Cage Crown

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Joel Eaves and his Murphy High quintet closed the mortgage on the throne room of the City League Friday night at Grady court, bowling Smith High aside, 35-32.

HALL OF FAME NOMINEE — Harold "Pie" Traynor, third baseman in the National League for 17 years and manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates from 1934 to 1939, Friday was named to baseball's Hall of Fame along with the late Herb Pennock. They join 46 others in the famous gallery.

A crowd of 1,410 paid admissions taxed the seating capacity of the gym to see the Eagles thwart the Smithies' bid to tie for the 1948 basketball crown and gain revenge for an early season 49-36 drubbing the charges of Coach Shirley Watkins had meted out.

The win gave the Memorial Drivers a season league record of 11 wins and one lone defeat, while the Smithies finished their campaign in second place with a won nine, lost three mark. Brown and Grady, now tied in the standings, will end their campaigns with a battle for third place at 8:30 tonight at Grady. The B teams of the same two schools will open the milling at 7:30.

The Eagles and Smithies were standoffs from the field Friday night, each team firing 12 two-pointers through the hoops. Murphy, however, had much the best of it from the foul line, dunking 11 or 21 charity tosses while Smith hit for only eight of 20 tries.

Big Bill Floyd played one of his finest games under the baskets for the winners and his 12 points gave him top scoring laurels for the year at 136. He ripped the nets on six of eight foul tries and had three field goals. His 136 points for all league games was three markers better than Roosevelt's Richard Bush.

W. A. Skelton came storming from nowhere to bag 11 of his 14 points in the final half and almost pull the game out of the fire for Smith. Herb Mendel, who finished with 10 counters, kept the losers in the race early in the game.

Big Doyle Kuglar got into his first game since the mumps laid him low some three weeks ago. His retrieving, along with that of Mendel and Skelton, made the Smithies more potent, but he was far from being back in his old form.

Milford Bennett, Murphy's 200-pound guard, played one of the best floor games seen all year on the Grady court.

Murphy and Smith will represent District Three in the GIAA tournament at Savannah, Thursday through Saturday of next week.

A field goal by Harvey Robertson and a foul shot by Perry Davis gave the Murphy Bees a 27-26 win over the Smith reserves in an overtime period after the preliminary game had ended, 24-24.

Cuban Extends Ike Williams

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Lightweight Champion Ike Williams, of Trenton, N. J., barely earned an unanimous 10-round decision in a non-title bout over Kid Gavilan, of Havana, Cuba, Friday night at Madison Square Garden. Williams weighed 136½, Gavilan 141½.

The cool efficient 135-pound champ almost knocked out the Cuban sensation in the eighth when he had him on the floor with a count of eight at the bell. However, the bolo-punching Gavilan, with one eye closed during the last four rounds, was in there punching all the way.

Referee Ruby Goldstein and Judge Jim Hagen had it for the champ by a 5-4 margin, with one even. Judge Jack O'Sullivan called it for Williams 6-4. The A.P. card called it even in rounds with the edge to Ike on the strength of the knockdown.

O'Keefe Rifle Team Tops Brown, 817-781

O'Keefe's rifle team defeated Brown, 817-781, in the seventh match in the City Rifle Tournament and Grady outfired Murphy 856-805, in the eighth match at the Grady Armory Friday afternoon.

It was the second athletic victory for O'Keefe since the City League for formed, and also the initial win over Brown in a sports event.

O'Keefe's J. G. Adams listed a 172 score, but G. Swords, of Brown, took top honors with a 177 total.

Murphy's James Bond was high scorer for the meet with 182, and Jim Telkas led Grady with 177.

The tournament will continue next week with matches slated Wednesday and Friday at the Grady armory.

Newhouser's Pay Around $50,000

DETROIT, Feb. 27—(AP)—Pitcher Hal Newhouser signed his 1948 Detroit Tigers contract Friday afternoon for a salary estimated around $50,000.

The star lefthander was understood to have taken a sizeable cut from the $60,000 he received last year when he won 17 and lost 17 for the club. His disappointing .500 percentage in 1947 came despite an earned run average of only 2.87.

Newhouser, voted the American League's most valuable player in 1944 and 1945, won 80 games against only 27 defeats in the three seasons preceding 1947.

Signing of Newhouser left only Pitcher Freddie Hutchinson and Shortstop Eddie Lake out of the Tiger fold.

Decatur To Clash With Canton For NGIC Court Crown Tonight

By HENRY DAILEY

Decatur and Canton, the pretourney favorites, will clash in the finals of the NGIC tournament at Druid Hills tonight with Coach Claude Kirkpatrick's Bulldogs rated as a slight favorite to capture their second straight NGIC court crown.

North Fulton threw a scare into Decatur in the semi-final round Friday night before surrendering, 40-37, in an overtime period, while Canton walloped Marietta in an impressive manner, 49-36.

With only 20 seconds remaining, North Fulton's Emory Jenkins calmly tossed a free throw through the nets for the all-important tying point.

Then in an overtime session, Long Jim Umbricht, who was a standout for the Bulldogs all season, hit with a lay-up shot. Bob Brissell duplicated the feat and John Harper applied the icing with another gratis heave. Bob French connected for North Fulton's only two-pointer in the extra period.

It was the deadly accuracy of Umbricht, under the basket, and Lawrence Thompson, from the sidelines, which enabled the Bulldogs to forge in front after trailing in the third period. Umbricht hit for 16 and Thompson accounted for 14, while Bob French and Bob Church, with 12 and 10, respectively, sparked North Fulton.

Canton had a much easier time with Marietta, taking command at the outset and holding the lead all the way. Canton compiled a 24-15 margin at the rest period and were never threatened in the last half.

Billy Cook, who plunked in 15 points, and J. B. Johnson, who accounted for 11, were the top point producers for Canton and Dan Hipsher and Ed Baskin, with six each, sparked the losers.

The Decatur girls, winners of the NGIC crown with 11 victories and one defeat, will receive a trophy after the finals tonight. Marietta was runner-up for the girls' court title with eight victories, one setback and one tie.

New York Cotton Futures Close Firm

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Cotton futures turned firm following early weakness today. Month-end covering by mills and short covering by locals met only limited offerings.

In early dealings the market was lower on scattered liquidation, influenced by expectations of a decline in the mid-February cotton parity and issuance of 33 additional March transferable notices.

Futures closed $1.30 to $1.75 a bale higher than the previous close.

New Orleans Cotton Recovers Early Drop

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27—(AP)—Cotton futures declined in early trading here today but later recovered on trade buying and short covering. Closing prices were steady, $1.15 to $1.65 a bale higher.

Buying was stimulated by Washington protest that a special House Foreign Aid Committee recommended a $4,500,000,000 appropriation for 12 months' relief and $2,000,000,000 to combat disease in Europe and Asia. Earlier in the day, selling resulted from expectations of a lower parity price and the delay in the Government export program. After the close the Department of Agriculture put the Feb. 15 parity price of cotton at 30.75 cents a pound against 31.12 on Jan. 15, 1948, and 27.40 cents on Feb. 15, 1947.

Timid Buying Fails To Rally Stock Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—(AP)—Stocks bogged down during the greater part of today's market but steadied at the last when a little timid buying support arrived.

Early light selling again was predicated on pessimism over business, wage demands, taxes and disturbing international situations. Fairly good corporate news brought only mild response. Thoughts of overhanging foreign liquidation of U. S. securities proved a restraint.

Belief that some leaders may have been oversold recently inspired a certain amount of professional short covering and other demand in the final hour. Initial losses running to a point or more were reduced or converted into modest plus signs at the close. Declines, however, showed a wide majority.

Dealings, slow at intervals, picked up occasionally. Transfers expanded to 770,000 shares, a top since Feb. 16, from 620,000 the day before which was the second smallest five-hour aggregate since last September.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off .1 of a point at 60.8 with the utility index at a new bottom for the past year. Of 951 issues registering, 532 fell and 194 rose.

The bond market drifted irregularly lower today as selling increased, principally in rails. There was a moderate number of point or more declines near the final hour of trading.

Kaiser-Frazer, again the fastest sprinter in the curb, was off 1/8 after Thursday's relapse. The turnover in this stock was 38,200 shares out of the entire market volume of 230,000. The curb total yesterday was 170,000. Forward leaners were Apex Electric, Helena Rubinstein and Noma Electric. Stumblers included Babcock & Wilcox, Fansteel, Hygrade Food and Louisiana Land.

Russell Prods Lunch Fund Through Senate

Constitution Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—Sen. Russell's efforts to have a $6,000,000 school lunch appropriation included in the urgent deficiency appropriation bill paid off Friday as the Senate passed the measure as recommended by Georgia's junior senator.

A subcommittee Thursday heard Russell urge additional appropriations on the school lunch program. He convinced the other two members of the subcommittee that this money should be included. The full committee followed the suggestion.

The Senator had received several letters from Georgia school officials saying the program would be curtailed without a deficiency appropriation.

FoundryUnion Wins PayHike

Ed Long, local representative of the International Moulders and Foundry Workers Union, A. F. of L., announced Friday that the remaining struck foundry plants here have reached agreements in bargaining and will resume work as soon as the plants can be placed in working order.

He said the companies involved agreed to salary rises sought by the Union, which were 15 cents per hour for moulders and 10 cents per hour for helpers.

Long said that Mrs. Eloise Stewart, commissioner assigned to work with the Union and Company officials toward reaching an agreement, was "very helpful." She is a representative of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service.

The strike originally involved seven foundry shops here, idling 200 employees.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, will make a direct appeal for $1,000,000 European relief during a unique broadcast at 11:32 a. m. Sunday over WSB and WATL. Special radio receivers will be installed in Atlanta's Episcopal churches so that this talk can be heard in the churches. Baptist Meetings

Two meetings of special significance to Baptist women of Georgia will be conducted in Atlanta and Savannah during March. The first is the Week of Prayer which will be observed with special meetings in almost every church in Atlanta beginning Monday and continuing through Friday. The Savannah meeting will be the State Convention which will be attended by delegates from most of the 3,319 organizations in the State. This convention opens March 16. Both meetings will be conducted by the Woman's Missionary Union of Georgia.

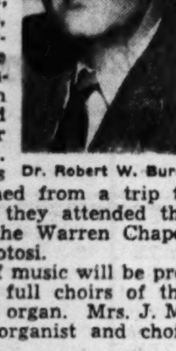

The Week of Prayer is designed as a fund-raising drive for home mission work in Baptist churches. The offering this year will be known as the Annie Armstrong offering in honor of the late organizer of this branch of the church.

Money raised through this source goes toward educational facilities for the underprivileged of all races, to poverty stricken families and migrants of whom there are more than 500,00 in the South.

The State Convention of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union of Georgia will be held at the Bull Street Baptist Church in Savannah. Dr. Searcy Garrison will be host pastor. The program there will be featured by business reports, worship periods and social functions for the out-of-town visitors.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	4 hearts	6 spades	Pass
7 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of hearts.

It is concededly difficult to display any personality when the opponents have reached a game or slam and you are gazing at an assortment of cards that are better adapted to the game of gin rummy than to contract bridge. Nevertheless, on those occasions it behooves one to maintain a stiff upper lip. Boredome may give away the show and enable declarer to place the missing strength in the hand of your partner. Then, too, one never knows when some unheralded card like a nine or ten may sink the enemy ship and even with a hopeless hand one's discarding may be helpful to partner who is sometimes in doubt as to what to hold.

Th East of today's hand never suspected when he picked up his cards that he was to be the leading man of the very exciting drama upon which the curtain was about to be raised. West's pre-emptive bid of four hearts prevented any scientific investigation of the hand and North's slam bid was a good gamble. South, feeling that he had rather more than he might have held, went on to a grand slam, a venture, which I for one, am not inclined to recommend.

The king of hearts was opened and taken by the ace. The low heart was ruffed in dummy with the 10 of spades and East had to make a discard. The appearance of the dummy made a club discard out of the question, so that the temptation was to let go the deuce of diamonds. East realized, however, that holding of four diamonds might be important if partner held the king (if declarer held the king there appeared to be no hope). He therefore discarded a trump. Note that a diamond discard would have permitted declarer to cash four tricks in the suit after the successful finesse, and the losing club could be shed on the three of diamonds.

Declarer entered his hand with a trump and took the diamond finesse; he then drew the trumps and repeated the finesse, but when diamonds and clubs both failed to break, he had to give up a club trick at the end.

Despite East's brilliance, declarer should have made the hand. West is known to have nine hearts and one spade. The clubs and diamonds cannot therefore break. This is corroborated, though no corroboration is necessary, by East's discard of a trump. After ruffing the heart, declarer should return to his hand with a spade and take the diamond finesse, another trump lead permits him to repeat the diamond finesse and the king shows up out of West's hand. At this point the three top clubs should be cashed and the remaining trumps led out.

Dummy discards the six of clubs and is reduced to the ace and three of diamonds. Declarer has a diamond and a club. East who holds the 10 and nine of diamonds and the jack of clubs must make a discard, which he is unable to do without committing hara-kiri.

Flower Colors Sought

LOS ANGELES—(UP)—Striking new flower colors is the goal of plant brushing experiments being made at the University of California at Los Angeles. The experiments involve hand-pollination and tying white bags over the blossoms of thousands of plants to prevent cross-pollination by insects.

Editor, Reporter Hold Confidence, Are Sentenced

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Feb. 27—(AP)—The news editor and a reporter for the Newburgh News were fined $100 each and sentenced to 10 days in jail Friday for contempt in refusing to tell an Orange County Grand Jury where they obtained "numbers" lottery tickets reproduced in the paper.

The News Editor, Douglas V. Clarke, 33, and the Reporter, Charles L. Leonard, 27, refused to disclose their sources because "it would violate a confidence, and in the newspaper business a confidence is a sacred thing."

Clarke appeared before the Grand Jury Wednesday and Leonard Thursday.

They were taken before Supreme Court Justice J. Gordon Flannery. At the suggestion of Dist. Atty. Stanley B. Johnson the transcript of their testimony was read. Judge Flannery called on each to answer the question as to the source of the tickets, and each refused.

Sir Malcolm Campbell Is Granted Divorce

LONDON, Feb. 27—(AP) — Sir Malcolm Campbell won a divorce Friday on grounds that his third wife committed adultery with a French Count, Andre Louis de la Salle.

Lady Campbell, the former Mrs. Betty Hickory, married the speedboat and automobile racer in 1945. She and de la Salle denied there was anything improper in their association in a Sloane Street apartment last Spring.

With two detectives, Sir Malcolm went to the flat in June. The court said he found his wife partly dressed and the Count in the bathroom. The detectives testified the bedroom had a single bed which appeared to have been used by two persons. A mattress and two green pillows were introduced as evidence.

ANGLO-AMERICAN—Arthur Daniel (left), President of the Atlanta Lions Club, and John Whatley (right), President of the Atlanta Optimist Club, greet Harry Wright Wallace, Labor member of the British Parliament, who addressed a joint session of the civic clubs and the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce on British recovery and labor movement and world reconstruction.

England Not Communistic, Says Parliament Laborite

The British are "very much disturbed" over the march of Communism in Europe, but the recent Communist grab of Czechoslovakia will not affect Britain's internal politics, because the Labor Party, now in power in England, "is not Communist."

Thus spoke Harry Wright Wallace, Labor member of Parliament, in answer to a question here Friday if Russian expansion in Europe might cause a trend in Britain away from the Left.

Wallace addressed a joint meeting of the Atlanta Optimist Club, Lions Club and Chamber of Commerce at the Ansley Hotel and told his audience that nationalization of British coal mines had tremendously increased both coal production and the miners' standard of living.

"Let me make it perfectly clear," he said, "that nationalization has nothing in common with Communism. Nationalization is nothing new and it was the answer to a specific problem," he declared. "Ever since 1919 Royal commissions have recommended the mines be owned by the public and improved."

Britons are working hard, he said, have increased industrial and agricultural production tremendously since the war, but are still confronted with shortages and are struggling to regain export trade.

"We still have rationing and controls and we don't like them," he said, "but we are sharing with each other and that's better than the 'rationing' system of 'if you have the money you can get it.'"

Britain, he said is working for world recovery and peace and supporting the United Nations, and needs and appreciates American help.

"There can be no peace while Europe is weak," he concluded, "and there can be no strong Europe until Britain is strong.

"I hope our two great pioneering countries can work together to increase the output of the world and to bring a larger peace and prosperity to the world."

War Threat, Slump Best Housing Aids--Palmer

By ALBERT RILEY

Only the threat of another war or another wave of unemployment will make America really get on with the job of rebuilding the Nation's decaying cities.

That was the grim outlook presented to the closing session of the Southeastern Housing Symposium at Georgia Tech Friday by Charles F. Palmer, former Special Assistant to the late President Roosevelt.

Palmer said unemployment forced slum clearance and public housing projects during the Roosevelt administration, and that "unemployment will force action again, not an appeal to rehouse the ill-housed."

Hundreds of American cities need rebuilding because of blight, he said as he urged Americans to adapt to this nation's needs the methods being used to rebuild hundreds of war-damaged cities abroad.

The threat of war will bring dispersal of population and industries, he declared, adding that great cities increase problems in war, in peace and during times of depression.

"No longer is mere size the measure of a city's distinction," Palmer said. "Rather it is what sort of life do its citizens live. Life seems fuller the smaller the place," he added, citing such Georgia towns as Fitzgerald and Quitman as perfect examples.

O. J. Baker, director of low-cost housing research at Louisiana State University, urged careful planning, use of new materials, less materials and less labor to get low-cost housing.

H. C. Robert, Jr., of Robert & Company, said building codes "should be put back where they belong and serve solely to protect the occupant of a building and his neighbors."

W. P. Kennard, former State Building Safety Director, told the group Georgia's building safety law should be enforced. He added that the Insurance Commissioner is not enforcing it but is working on a fire marshal bill instead.

Vets To Attend Housing Meet

A delegation of Atlanta and Georgia veterans' leaders will leave today for Washington to attend a housing conference Sunday and Monday with President Truman, Gen. Eisenhower, Sens. Taft and McCarthy and other Governmental leaders.

The object of the conference, said A. L. Shepard, Chairman of the Housing Committee of the Atlanta AVC group, is "to get something done on housing instead of sitting around talking about it." Specifically, he said, the American Veterans Committee wants to get rent control extended and the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill passed.

Atlanta representatives of the AVC, American Legion, Jewish War Veterans and Disabled American Veterans will attend the conference, and Shepard said he understood State representatives of those organizations and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will go along.

Although the conference was called by all veterans groups except the Legion and AMVETS, Shepard said, Herbert Ringel, of Atlanta Post No. 1, of the Legion, will attend.

Housing Costs Will Decline 'Eventually,' Loan Head Says

If you and millions of others will just keep your shirt on and not buy a house you can't afford, housing costs eventually will regain a normal level.

That's the opinion of Ralph M. Smith, President of the United States Savings and Loan League, who hastened to add that he did not see a decline in housing prices for the immediate future.

Ralph M. Smith

"It will be gradual—over a period of years," Smith commented Friday during his current Atlanta visit. "History has shown that real estate prices drop after other commodities have fallen."

Individual enterprise, Smith believes, is the answer to the housing situation and other national problems. He advocates young people working, saving their money for a home instead of "throwing it away" on too many pleasure-giving luxuries, and then enjoying their home when they are able to afford it.

He scorns the principle of a "rich daddy" putting up the money for his children's home, and frowns heavily on what he terms the "attempt Uncle Sam is trying to play of the rich father."

Government housing is not the answer to the current shortage, Smith contends. He maintains that the taxpayer is the one who shoulders the difference between what the Government collects from rentals on subsidized housing projects and the actual rental value of the units.

A firm believer in the law of supply and demand, Smith is against rent control and other Government price curbs.

Atlanta 'Ring' Suspected in S. C. Robbery

A burglary ring believed using Atlanta as headquarters is suspected of an $18,000 safe-cracking job reported Friday near Spartanburg, South Carolina.

In looting the safe of envelopes containing Friday's payroll for the E. E. Converse Company at Glendale Mills, the bandits used professional methods except for employing a square punch to trip delicate tumblers on the safe instead of a round punch, police noted.

Three men were reported acting in a suspicious manner near another Spartanburg mill before the Glendale job was pulled Thursday night. One man was listed as stout and chunky, wearing a grey suit, while another was tall, slim and wearing a beige coat. The third man remained in the late model sedan the trio was using and was not described.

Spartanburg authorities contacted Det. Lt. M. M. Coppenger of the Atlanta Police Department Friday in belief the Glendale safe-cracksmen may be members of an Atlanta gang, some of whom now are reported at liberty under bond. Five men recently accused of a burglary wave in Southern States are alleged to have operated out of Atlanta.

House Agrees to Limit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—The House Friday joined the Senate in a pledge to try to hold government spending to $37,200,000,000 in the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $2,500,000,000 less than President Truman proposed in his budget for the year.

This Troubled World

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee Friday completed hearings on the proposed multi-billion-dollar European Recovery Program.

Chairman Eaton, Republican, New Jersey, called an executive meeting for Monday to begin writing the Committee's aid bill. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee already has submitted its own bill and floor debate may begin next week.

Rep. Monroney, Democrat, Oklahoma, the House group's final witness, proposed adding $1,500,000,000 to the $6,800,000,000 asked by the Administration for the first 15 months of ERP.

Monroney said the additional amount should be earmarked for loans by the Government's Export-Import Bank.

STERN GANG STRIKES

JERUSALEM — (AP)—A former Polish Consul General and a former correspondent of Polish News Agency were shot to death by the Stern Gang on suspicion of collaborating with Arabs, Jewish sources said.

The bodies of the two Christian Poles were found in a deserted Arab quarter in Jerusalem and were removed to a government morgue.

Later they were unofficially identified as Witold Hulanitzsky, the former consul general, and Stefan Arnold.

Recently the Sternists warned the Dean of the Foreign Consular Corps here that reprisals would be undertaken against consular representatives who aid the Arab cause.

GENERAL EXECUTED

NANKING, China—(UP)—A Chinese National general has been executed for abandoning a key airfield near Mukden, Manchuria, to the Communists, government reports said.

A brief report said that Gen. Wen Li had been executed for withdrawing troops of his division from suburban Hunho Airfield, one of Mukden's few contacts with the outside world. Communist forces immediately seized the landing field.

Meanwhile, dispatches described a lightning Red advance which heavily attacked defense bastions on all the remaining approach routes to the key government base in the mineral-rich northern Province.

SEES GUERRILLA DEFEAT

ATHENS, Greece—(UP)—Maj. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander-designate of the American Military Mission in Greece, said he believed guerrilla forces would be conquered soon.

Van Fleet told a press conference held jointly with Dwight Griswold, head of the American Aid Mission, "the best thing . . . the guerrillas could do would be to surrender now to save all this bloodshed."

CRUISER STANDS BY

BELIZE, British Honduras — (UP)—The British Cruiser Sheffield arrived as tension grew over an alleged Guatemalan plan to invade this British crown colony.

British authorities here said the Sheffield had arrived to forestall any possible threat of trouble resulting from Guatemalan territorial claims on British Honduras.

The Guatemalan Consul told a United Press correspondent:

"I believe the same thing will happen here as with Chile and Argentina."

He was referring to overt acts by those South American countries to assert rights to Anarctic territories claimed by the British.

Rabun Says Big Money Is Backing Opponents

The Rev. Joseph Rabun, of Valdosta, charged that big corporations are financing the gubernatorial campaigns of Acting Gov. Thompson and Herman Talmadge, as he opened his campaign for Governor in a radio broadcast here Friday night.

Without mentioning any names, Rabun asked his listeners to contribute funds and votes to help him defeat "my two major opponents" for whom the "big corporations are spending a million dollars.

"The real issue is whether the Big Money, the Big Corporations, Railroads, Power Companies, Textile Companies, Oil Trusts and Big Contractors shall continue to rule Georgia, or whether the plain people of Georgia shall elect a Governor of their choice through whom they shall control their government," said the candidate. "The real issue is whether the Government of this State shall serve the needs of the people, or be used to increase the profits and powers of these corporations."

Rabun criticized the present administration for "failing to protect the people againts the profiteering" of the telephone company, the power company and the gas company, which are seeking to increase their rates, and against the rising price of milk.

He advocated a corporate net profits tax and increased taxes on individuals earning in excess of $6,000 annually to finance expanded state services.

Rabun promised to pave every rural mail and school route, and advocated legislation to secure adequate housing at rental or purchase prices the veteran can afford to pay. He proposed a merit system for state employees.

Sutton Transfer to Athens Declared a 'Closed Incident'

Chairman Pope Brock, of the Board of Regents, and Chancellor Raymond Paty termed the transfer of Dr. Glenn Sutton from the Savannah Branch to the University of Georgia a "closed incident," after President Harmon Caldwell, of the University of Georgia, issued a lengthy statement Friday.

They upheld Caldwell's position to the effect that he could fulfill his responsibility of operating the Savannah unit better with someone other than Dr. Sutton.

Caldwell said a difference over "basic policies" led to Sutton's recall from the directorship of the Savannah unit to his former position as Professor of Finance at the Athens institution. The President said Sutton's attempted firing of Business Manager Pat Summerour had nothing to do with the transfer, since he (Caldwell) had recommended the transfer a week before Sutton tried to dismiss Summerour.

"Dr. Sutton has not for some time been in full sympathy with certain basic policies of the Board of Regents with reference to the Savannah branch," Caldwell said in a statement issued at Athens. "It is in no sense, however, a reflection on the good name of Dr. Sutton to assume that the plans the Board has ordered me to put into effect at Savannah can be executed more satisfactorily through a director who is in accord with them than they can be by one not in sympathy with them. My recommendation regarding Dr. Sutton's transfer was based on the fact that I am responsible to the Board of Regents for the operation of the Savannah division and it is my considered judgment that I can discharge that responsibility more successfully and efficiently by making the change."

Caldwell said he felt some Savannah citizens were demanding a public hearing for Sutton without knowing all the facts in the case. He said that although Sutton refused to give him a copy of charges against Summerour, he was making a full investigation of Summerour, who has been relieved of his duties at Savannah.

Record Road Program Is Set in Georgia

Georgia launched its biggest road program in history Friday. The State Highway Department announced apparent low bids on $3,742,462 in highway construction—a total of 37 projects in 34 counties.

Actual estimates had been $3,835,564 for the construction contracts. Another 10 percent for engineering and emergencies puts the total cost of roads contracted this month at $4,218,500—an all-time record.

Highway officials said a mistake was made in announcing earlier that the total would be $4,500,000 to $4,700,000.

For the first time in Gov. M. E. Thompson's administration, the road list included many projects financed solely by State funds. In the past Thompson has restricted his program to roads in which the Federal Government pays half the bill.

The project also included several "post roads"—roads that are off the State Highway system. They include the first work on access highways to Jekyll Island.

Bi-Racial Body Ponders Civil Rights

Resolutions opposing segregation in education, the Southern Governors' plan for regional schools, favoring instruction in tolerance in grade schools, the enactment of a permanent fair employment practices commission, and other measures resulted from a meeting of white and Negro groups here Friday.

The meetings, four bi-racial workshops on civil rights sponsored by the Southern Regional Council and 11 other civic and religious groups were attended by civic, labor and church leaders from 72 Southern cities in 11 States.

Among the speakers was Ralph McGill, editor of The Constitution, who discussed the political South and its opposition to Federal legislation in racial matters.

"Federal legislation which transfers the same mentality and the same jury from the county courthouse to the Federal building is no answer at all," McGill said.

The answer, he pointed out, must come from the Southern pattern.

"It is devoutly hoped," he added, "that proposed legislation may be stayed until the South can act."

P. J. prattis, Executive editor the Pittsburgh Courier, said failure to create civil rights played into the hands of Russia.

Boris Shuskin, of the A. F. of L. A. T. Walden, of the NAACP., and Mrs. M. E. Tilly also spoke. Dr. Ira A. Reid presided.

Earlier the Session Council President Paul D. Williams, of Richmond, Va., said the meeting was not political; that it was called to seek the reasonable and tolerant approach to the problem of civil rights.

One of the day speakers, Abbot Rosen, head of the civil rights section of the Department of Justice, told the group the United States should come into the court of world opinion with clean hands—but it couldn't.

The Southern Regional Council is composed of businessmen, church and labor leaders, educators and newspapermen devoted to working out the South's problems in the field of human relations from within the section. The organization is open to all races and creeds.

Red Cross Drive Due To Succeed---Paty

The Red Cross is one of few institutions devoted to "eminently human" functions, Dr. Raymond R. Paty, Chancellor of the University System of Georgia, told 750 business and civic leaders Friday at a "Friends of Red Cross" luncheon in the Ansley Hotel.

He predicted that the $389,189 quota in the Greater Atlanta Red Cross fund campaign opening March 15 will be met and possibly oversubscribed. Dr. Paty reviewed past accomplishments of the Red Cross and hailed the new national blood program as "one of the greatest health and lifesaving projects undertaken."

Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., a member of the Atlanta Red Cross Board of Directors, was host at the luncheon.
